A.J. Siegfried — Bass

Born during a blizzard in Allentown, Pennsylvania, A.J. Siegfried picked up a guitar at 12 chasing the sounds of Kirk Hammett and Ace Frehley, then taught himself drums soon after. Over 30 years, he's performed everything from metal to classic rock, alternative to theatrical concept work, building a reputation as a versatile and hard-hitting player. Now bringing the low end to Arena Flashback, A.J. delivers the bottom-end punch that anchors the band's sound.
