Charlie Calv — Keyboards

Charlie Calv is a Billboard-charting keyboardist and longtime member of 70s glam rock pioneers Angel — the band famously discovered by Kiss's Gene Simmons and signed to Casablanca Records. He's recorded on Angel's comeback albums Risen and Once Upon a Time, as well as Punky Meadows' Billboard-charting Fallen Angel. With over 35 years as a touring and recording musician, Charlie's résumé includes stints with Shotgun Symphony, Bronx Casket Co. (alongside members of Overkill, Misfits, and Savatage), Ted Poley of Danger Danger, Steve Augeri of Journey, and David Reece of Accept — with performances spanning more than 15 countries and major markets from New York and London to Tokyo and Paris. He's also shared the stage with members of Meat Loaf, Billy Joel, Rainbow, Alice Cooper, Ted Nugent, and Type O Negative. As co-owner and president of Deko Entertainment (ADA/Warner Music Group), Charlie has worked with acts including The Guess Who, Ten Years After, Slash, Tiffany, the Brian Setzer Orchestra, and The Moody Blues' John Lodge.